“ We will deeply miss you Aunt Bea. I take my solace in knowing your with Uncle Bill and your sisters (my mom) Hazel & Aunt Elaine. I remember being a little girl and you baby sitting me and the fond memories. My sympathies go out to the broken hearts of your daughters Wanda Gail and Beverly and all the wonderful family you leave behind. I know God has gained a truly beautiful angel with a golden heart.

“ I heart is so breaking from our loss of you mama. You were the rock in our family and are loved so much by so many people. the only consolation is you are with the love of your life for sixty years, your childhood best friend. your reunited with you son who God took at birth, your two sisters and brother whom you helped raise. Your with your parents and all the rest of family that went to heaven before you. What a reunion yall will have. I know you were met with lots of hugs. You and daddy, Cara and Bob can sit on a cloud dicussing you kids and grand and great grandkids while looking down from Heaven. I love and always will miss you but I know I'll see you and daddy again some day. I hope I make you and daddy proud while you are observing me from that cloud. Untill I see you again. Love Your First Born -Wanda-

“ mom, was a very loving and attentive mother. I was an only child for ten year after my baby brother died when I was two years old so was a tiny bit spoiled by both parents. how ever mom did beleave in spanking and choice of weapon was a bowlow paddle after the string and ball came off and fly swatter. Daddy could stand to see mom spank me. when I was six or seven I took the paddle and hid it under a pile of leaves mom had raked up, well I forgot about it until the following fall when my parents were again raking leaves. well mom found the paddle and said (i always wonder where this went to, but how did it get out here) my dad looked over at me in my swing with eys as big as saucers and grin at me and comment while grinning at me and said (I wonder to) dad never told on me. As an adult I told mom about it, all she said was I though you did, some day you'll be paid back with your kids. Also I credit my mother for my love of reading. mama was always reading to me. As i got older she would teach me to read the stories back to her. she always said "honey when you learn to read you can go anywhere in the world through your reading". I pass this knowledge on to my children, grandchildren and students. Mama you are gone but never forgotten. I hope I make you proud as you look down on me, -Wanda-

“ My Mom was a very loving and attentive mother. After my baby brother died when I was 2 years old I was the only child for 10 years and may have been a tiny bit spoiled by my parents. Mom was loving but also strick and beleaved in spankings,only my dad could not stand to see her spank me. Her weapons of choice were a fly swat or bowlow paddle after the ball and string came off (I soon learned why she didn't mine buying them for me) anyway one fall when I was about six I took the paddle and hid it in a big pile of leaves mom and dad had racked up to the edge of the woods. well I forgot about it until the following fall when I was in my swing and mom and dad were raking again, mom found the paddle, with a funny look on her face she said (I always wondered what happen to this, I wonder how it got out here). My dad looked over at me in the swing with eyes as big as saucers, he had abig grin on his face and said (I wonder too). he never told on me. I finely told her as an adult, all she said with a laugh is you know you'll be paid back someday. The other sweet memory I have is I credit my mom wih my Love for reading, mama was always reading to me and as I got older she started helping me learn to read books to her. She would tell me (honey when you learn to read you can go anywhere in the world in a story). I since have told the same thing to my children and grandchildren. I Love you mama. -Wanda-
