“ Kent Booker lit a candle in memory of James Joseph Dorsey

Kent Booker - September 30, 2020 at 06:32 PM

“ To the family of Jim Dorsey, I am thinking about y'all, on this day of remembrance. Jim was a good man who I had the honor of knowing, and calling friend. The grief we feel now, will be replaced with great memories of Jim, as he is now free from pain and suffering. We cannot be so naive as to believe this existence on earth is all there is...

I met Jim in 1974, through his son, Tom, as we quickly became friends. I was 17 years old at the time. From Cumberland Ct. to Frontier Ct. we shared many good times together. Jim was more than just Tom, Beth, and Amy's father. He was a friend to all their friends too. When Tom and all us friends would hang out together, Jim would often times be right there with us, chatting, listening to music, going to concerts or races at Road Atlanta, and having a good time!

I learned a lot from Jim about photography, and about working in your life's passion. For Jim, that was definitely photography and working at Eastman Kodak. Jim encouraged me when I was in college, but I must say, after 37 years since having left Atlanta, and working as a mechanical engineer, I am still trying to find my life's passion! But that's how life is, and who are we to question it? Everything does, in fact, work out for a reason, though.

Well, Jim, this isn't "good-bye" as much as "later on." Every one of us will eventually be in that place, so I would like to think that you're just kicking back with a cold one until we get there. You've got a lot of good folks welcoming you home...there's PK & Jeff, Kim, Dale the Whale, Tiny, and of course your parents and kin. And you've got the best bands! Music just hasn't been the same since Skynyrd's plane left Greenville...

Ride free my brother!

“ Denny Deppen here. The Deppens, Dorseys, Moores, McCoys, Shades and Stultzs all grew up together. We were family born of the greatest generation. We were part of something beautiful. We carry on.

“ Thank you, Denny! I wish I knew more of dad's cousins. After we moved to Georgia, I didn't get to see the extended family much. Dad used to tell us a lot of stories, though. He was a kind and generous man, and is greatly missed already.
