“ I met Aaron through are shared love of G.I. Joe. We hit it off right away and I could tell he was my kind of people. He had a good heart and loved to help people out. I am very sad to hear of his passing and I hope his friends and family realize just how many people his kindness touched. May he rest in peace.

“ Aaron, you joined our GI Joe Facebook message group a short while ago and every-time we talked it was always fun. You were quite the warrior and a friend however short lived our time together was. Our group was just discussing you and this news is heartbreaking. We will miss you Aaron, and we will never forget your kindness and candid way. God speed, and Yo Joe from the NTZ.

“ Aaron was a buddy I've had for years. We shared a few nerd things in common (computers, video games, GI Joe amongst many other things). He was also a fellow Veteran, but he was one of the most humble Veterans I've known. He was down to earth, funny, very intelligent, and genuine. I'll miss our chats and all the creative things he planned to do. The world has lost a good person. I'm glad he's not suffering anymore, but I'm sad that you're no longer here, bud. I miss you.

“ At Flip, Aaron came into his IT position shortly after I was hired. He was funny, adaptable, helpful, and caring. During my time at Flip, we moved the warehouse around a lot. Aaron (along with Emeri, Lonny, and Gary) came up with a pretty innovative system to move around the lack of outlets we had in comparison to the large amount of computers we had to work with. Aaron also accepted input from others pretty well. Any difficulties faced with wifi/computers/printers, Aaron approached with humor and was pretty good at helping people (me) maintain our annoyance about technical issues. Further, Aaron created connections with everyone at previous Flip Weeks--including my boyfriend, Chad. Chad mentioned how Aaron was one of the best conversationalists (a huge compliment from a big talker himself). In those talks, we learned all about Aaron's previous career in law enforcement, training it took for him to get there, and lessons he's learned in life along the way. Aaron created an open environment around himself that made him fun to be around. I'm thankful for the short time we all got together, and hope Aaron is at peace after everything. Sending love to all family and friends!

“ There's not enough that I can say about Aaron. He was the love of my life. He claimed my daughter like she was his own and made me feel safe and loved in ways that I've never had before. My world is emptier without him and it's going to be a long time before I figure out how to keep moving without him. With Aaron...if you were one of his people, he would move heaven and earth to help you and to see you happy. When he loved, he loved with his whole heart. And I just hope that everyone who reads these knows, he loved you as much as you loved him.

“ I never had the privilege of meeting Aaron in person...but I can say this. The impact he had on me in the 2 hours we spent on the phone setting up my laptop when I was hired back in July was mind-blowing! The amount of positive energy Aaron had was absolutely amazing! He shared with me his illness and all that he had been through over the course of a couple of years and oh by the way he was doing this work at 9:00pm!! Since that evening, he and his family have been in my prayers. When I heard the news of Aaron's passing...while I was sad, I was also happy he was no longer suffering and at peace. Aaron...you will always be remembered, and I will continue to pray for your family during this difficult time. Rest in Peace Aaron!

“ I had the privilege of working closely with Aaron at Flip Electronics throughout 2024, tackling IT / website challenges together. Aaron was an absolute joy to collaborate with, and every time we hung up, I'd turn to my husband and say, "Man, I love that dude!" His positivity was infectious, always managing to make me laugh and quickly easing any stress I felt about our projects. Despite all he was going through, he genuinely cared about others and made every interaction brighter. The last time we texted, we talked about going shooting—his favorite stress reliever—once he felt better. Though we never got that chance, I like to imagine him in heaven, PEWPEW-ing to his heart's content, with the same joy and laughter he brought to us all. God Bless the Riffle family.

“ The world lost a kind, hilarious, generous spirit with Aaron. I've only really gotten to know him through my friend Sheri, but she painted a picture of a wonderful man whose love lit up their lives. The relationship between Aaron, Sheri and her daughter Bella was a beautiful thing and a blessing for them all in his last few days. Even though they didn't get the life they wanted to build together, she will always be his "forever ". Rest well, Aaron.

“ My heart is broken to hear of Aaron's loss. The world is truly worse without him in it. I know Aaron through his long term girlfriend, Sheri, and her daughter, Bella. They meant the world to him and watching him love them both the way they have always deserved was the best thing I could have asked for them as Sheri's friend. Aaron was hilarious, fun loving, and incredibly generous. Rest easy, my friend. Fly high.

“ Aaron's love and dedication to Sheri and her daughter Bella were nothing short of extraordinary. He was more than a partner and a friend; he was a guiding light, a source of unwavering support, and a steadfast presence in their lives. His capacity to care, to love, and to nurture was beyond measure, touching the lives of Sheri, Bella, and their cherished pets in ways that words can barely capture.

Aaron's kindness and compassion extended far beyond the ordinary. He had a special way of making everyone feel safe, valued, and deeply loved. Whether it was through his quiet acts of care or his unshakable belief in the bond they shared, Aaron made their family whole. He will be sorely missed.

Though he is no longer physically with them, Sheri and Bella will carry his memory in their hearts, honoring his life through their actions and the love they continue to share with one another and their pets. Aaron's legacy of love and devotion will remain a cornerstone of their lives—a reminder of the depth of his impact and the beauty of his spirit.

Rest in peace, Aaron. Your love lives on in the hearts of those who were fortunate enough to call you friend or family.

“ I only knew Aaron for a short time but in the brief time I learned an awful lot about him. He was kind, funny, smart and loved his people like no one else could. He came into my friends life, stood by her through some rough health stuff, and then she did the same for him. They will always be the couple I try to model my relationships after. The love him and Sheri had is what most people only dream of having, thw once and a lifetime notebook style love. His acceptance of Sheri's daughter as his own was incredible. He was a great father to both Andy and Bella. Coming into Bella's life when she needed someone to just love her for her like only a fad can. Which is when I realized just how big his heart really was.

*Im going to miss our talks, and laughs, I'm sure we will me again.

“ I am heartbroken by this loss. Aaron was an amazing kind hearted man. I got the pleasure of meeting him through my sister. Getting to see the love and adoration between them both was truly a site. They complemented each other so well. His kind patience and quiet quick humor was a win for me. I knew he was a solid human and good soul. My heart breaks for my sister, niece and the rest of his family and friends.

“ Aaron was an amazing person and the most supportive friend anyone could ever have. He helped me through a dark time in my life, and I will be forever grateful for that . The pure and intense love that he had for Sheri and Bella is proof that true happiness can exist in this world . R. I.P., my friend.

“ I have only known Aaron for about the last 3-4 years, but he was absolutely one of the most kind and loving people I've ever known. He and I had become close and we talked often. About his love of cars, how he wanted to have a house in the mountains one day, about the stresses of every day life, about the things that brought us joy. He brought a warmth, kindness and genuine care to the lives of so many people. This was especially shown in the past two years or so. The love that he showed Sheri and her daughter Bella was such a beautiful thing to witness. Their relationship was so sweet, and they loved each other to the moon and back. I'm thankful that he was able to have that kind of love in his life. So many never get the opportunity. I'm heartbroken that it was cut so short. Rest easy, brother. We all love you and will carry you in our hearts. You will be so greatly missed. I'm so thankful that we got to share this little part of the world together for a little while.

“ I didn't really know Aaron, except as an acquaintance on social media, but he was the world to a very dear friend of mine and her daughter. He brought the light back into their world and loved both Sheri and Bella with his whole heart.

Sheri and Bella: I am so incredibly sorry for your loss. I am praying for your comfort and hope you are surrounded with happy memories of the good times with Aaron and your plethora of shared pets. He absolutely loved the both of you very much and that is a fact that no one can ever deny.
