Mr. Quinonez was born April 20, 1978 in Chicago, Illinois. Alex's favorite things in the world were books; he loved to read one after another after another. His other passion was writing. He wrote anywhere and on anything; always had that creative mind rolling. His dream was to one day publish one of the many books he wrote. He liked to call himself a philosopher. Alex was the true definition of an artist; with a wild imagination, and a free spirit, a wanderer of the world. He left his stamp everywhere he went through his drawings. Alex loved to spend time with his family. He enjoyed conversation- he talked to everyone he came in contact with; a real chatter box. Alex was always willing to be of help and service to anyone. He was fascinated with taking pictures and had a special love for animals. Your legacy will live on forever!
