What do you say about a man who has lived 97 years in this world and has experienced what he has experienced in this lifetime? It seems like an almost impossible task to do in a few paragraphs, but we will try.

In a nutshell, our father was an intelligent, sensitive, sometimes reticent, humorous, wise, very loving man. He was a 6-year WWII veteran. He was a hard-working, loving husband and father who worked sometimes two jobs to provide financially for his family. He also provided a firm foundation of love, discipline, hard work, religion and ethical living. He lived by the golden rule: Do unto others as you would have them do unto you. We all benefited from his example.

After mom died, he lived with Laura, his youngest daughter, in Georgia, and her family, and continued to supply never-ending love, wisdom, support and guidance to everyone around him. He was very sharp minded, engaged and supportive until the end.

Dad passed 6 days after his stroke. Per his wishes, no extra ordinary measures were taken. He made this decision because he was ready to go home and had lived a full and complete life. He looked forward to joining Lois his wife of 57 years.

With very heavy hearts we had to respect and support his decision. His children and grandchildren were with him 24/7 during his last and final journey on Earth.

We feel that he is now dancing with mom, and celebrating with all of his beloved family and friends in heaven, and that he is surrounded by the very bright and golden light that is created ... when pure love and extreme joy abound.

“ Dear Family,

May Jehovah God comfort you during this time of loss. Though there may be little that can be said or done to ease your pain, may you find comfort in knowing that many care and sympathize with your sadness. Always know that Jehovah God is with you to strengthen and guide you. May your trust in his promise of a resurrection bring you peace. - Acts 24:15

“ I have fond memories as a child spending time with your family. One thing that I will always remember about Uncle Andy is his smile. You could see his smile in his eyes also. My thoughts and prayers are with you.
