This man, a husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather was most certainly the soul of our family. Always laughing telling stories both new ones and ones heard a few times before. “ I am very grateful for our cousin Christmas and long Miami Beach holidays. Time stood still and joy abounded being with Aniter, Janet and Anelito. Tio Anel contributed with his gentle charm and wit. I felt so comfortable with him because his joy with life always bubbled over in his fascinating stories and funny jokes. I loved seeing him and my dad, the brothers, spending time together and cracking up all the time. I especially remember how tender he was with Tia Mirtha. Tio, thank you for the wonderful memories. They formed deep roots in my heart. May you rest in Peace with our Lord.

“ Tio Anel was not only my favorite tío, he was a human being that could always find the beauty and humor in any situation , regardless how dark or ugly, his lens always saw it like a “Cantinflas” moment. He and my dad (his brother) were very similar in that way. It was a battle of wits when the two of them got on a call. Unlike my dad, Tio Anel was able to tell a joke without bursting into laughter with every word. I spoke to Tio always on his birthday and holidays and knew I had to set 1 hour aside as I loved listening to his stories as much as he took pleasure in telling them. Following the Diaz-Montes tradition of storytelling, it was all about the details and lots of them, usually about some personality, a Cuban icon pre-Castro, or a story of the Diaz-Montes boys being mischievous in a very wholesome way. I will miss you, Tio, and thank you for showing us all the true joy of kindness, generosity and laughter. I wish I could remember all of your jokes. I will try.

TIO ANEL,

You were so fun to live with in Cuba. Your love for The Cinco Latinos, a sixties music group in Latinamerica made me like to listen to it too. You were disciplined, hard working, and so humorous except when the government drove us crazy with Fidel's endless speeches over a loud speaker next door. Your mother , my grandmother, sang your praises about how frugal you were and what a good work ethic you had. I was so fortunate to have you during those days and I will miss your fast way of speaking , always making a super funny punchline ILook fwd to visiting with you again someday in the presence of God and reliving the good times!!

“ I spent many a Christmas with the Diaz family over the years. I didn't have family in Georgia and was always welcomed into their celebration. I looked so forward to gathering around the dinner table and listening to Anel telling stories from his past and present. He was so warm and funny. I so loved him and he will be very missed.
