“ My latest memory of Babs is a month ago. She was so attentive to me in the burial of Mike ( her brother). She was worried that my hotel room was not good enough. I was worried over how to dress. She said Mike was a blue jeans and T shirt kind of guy and never was comfortable in a suit. She said you are the same way. Dress to attend his farewell party and you'll be fine. She was always so sweet to me as we were all growing up. She always wanted to go off driving with Mike and myself, so we of course, had to ditch her. You know how kids are at those ages. She was a very special girl, and always as bright as a new copper penny. I will miss her. God has taken another beautiful soul. RIP my dear sweet friend. I'll see you soon enough.

“ My favorite memory is trying on sunglasses with Babara. She said no sunglasses looked good on her head/face. And, she was right. We tried on dozens and were laughing so hard that people were staring at us in the store. Love you, Barb. I know you are up there making God laugh. RIP sweet friend.
