“ Bryce it was your birthday this October! 😊💙 Least I can do is continue remembering you and comforting your family, cause that's true community. Even though I didn't know him too well, there's still plenty I can say about him. Bryce was in my P.E. & Health classes 9th grade and he sat right beside me in Chemistry 10th grade. He was extremely smart and intelligent. By the time I got through balancing 1 chemistry equation, he finished 4. We had fun talking about his upcoming drivers test & what he should & should not do when behind the wheel. He passed it no problem. There're more memories I could write but one thing I gotta say is, shame on me for not doing more. I'm ashamed for not paying more attention to any Red Flags or anything that might've signaled that he needed someone there for him BADLY. And I saw some Red Flags, I just did not pay much attention to them because I was stubborn. If I would've payed attention and been there for him more, the chances of him still being here today would've been higher. When I heard that he died I thought it was a joke and when I was informed enough, that sensation of pressure and heating on the chest & needing to gasp for air came. This horrible experience did chance me, it was a spark of motivation to care a lot more for those around me, whether I know them or not. And this goes for everyone, not just me. Because being a community is not just caring about those I know, it's caring about everyone around me, because everyone matters. And this I'll remember for the rest of my life. I Love You Bryce 😊💙🙏

“ I've known Bryce since 5th grade and I can truly say I'm thankful he entered my life. Throughout the years of getting close to him, I found he was sweet, funny, so smart, caring, and such a beautiful soul. Over this past summer Drew, Bryce, and I spent time together laughing and creating memories that I will hold onto forever. My heart breaks for your family. Prayers for strength and God's healing hand in your lives.

“ Max will miss Bryce, they were in 4th period together. Bryce sat behind him. Max remembers their friendship in first grade and still remembers the reptile party. We are very sorry to hear about his passing.

“ Bryce was an amazing friend who always brought joy and laughter to those around him, we were best friends in Ninth grade, me, him, Andrew, Declan, and Drew. He was one of the best people I have ever met. I remember taking him home after he ran into a tree while longboarding and him breaking both arms and his nose, but he still had a smile on his face and joked about it, one of the strongest people i have ever met. #LLB

“ I was devastated when I heard the news that Bryce passed away. We became friends during our freshman year, and we made a lot of jokes that would make us laugh a lot. Bryce can make anyone laugh, and I wish I can hear more of his jokes in school. You made freshmen year fun with our little group at lunch. I will miss you a lot, I will miss my best friend. Rest in Peace Bryce Calhoun “ Losing Bryce really took a big toll on me this year. We had just met in September, but it felt like we've known each other for years. We had got close that month when we found out we had the same birthday. He would always tell me he favored my permit picture, & made it my contact photo in his phone. He always used to raise his eyebrows at me and we'd laughed. He smiled at me almost everyday. Our last moment was when I saw him in his letterman that Thursday. He looked so good & I felt so proud to be his friend. I never got to tell him that though. May he Rest In Peace.

“ It hurts deeply to know that one of my good friends I grew up with is now gone from this world. I know he is in a better place. I remember playing with him, Luke, Andrew and plenty others. I lived right down the street. Me and my family send our prayers and condolences to his family.

“ Hearing the loss of Bryce broke everything about me. I never thought at such a young age that my best friend, my family, my day one would have been gone at such a young age. He was always there for me and all his family and friends. I miss everything about him just to hear his voice one last time or just to see his smile, it always warmed my heart. I remember going on longboard rides with him and plenty of are other friend. He has made such an impact on my life. I miss are conversations about life and siting next to him at lunch, he was truly such a lovable son, brother, best friend, I miss you so much Bryce and I wish you didn't have to go at such a young age, I would have done anything I could've just to keep you in my life. Fly high brother! I LOVE YOU SOOOO MUCH! #LLB

“ I can say Bryce was one of my closest friends for a long time. We used to send funny snaps on snapchat, have long conversations on facetime about friends, family, life etc. he always knew how to make people laugh on their worst and best days. He was the light of almost every memory my friends Declan Coffey, Andrew Callahan and Jacob Bartholomew talk about. Bryce and I used to sneak out, you know being teenagers, and play manhunt or just sit and talk. He was truly down to earth and his energy was just the best. When i heard he passed it broke me. All of our friends got together as soon as we got the news. This tragic news brought people together and I know Bryce would have loved that. I will miss him so dearly and I loved him so much and always will. He was like a brother to my closest people ~MaKayla

“ Bryce... was a amazing and such a sweet person to me. I've known him since my Freshman year. We would always laugh at dumb things and giggle over pointless things. But I admired it. A few days ago I saw Bryce at his Job. And he winked at me and I was so excited and happy to see him working hard. I told him Bye. I didn't know that would be the last time I would get to see his bright smile and wonderful light eyes. I saw him another day Friday. Before the weekend. Sitting in class and I was in by the door making funny faces and he was shaking his head laughing. Bryce, you will live eternally at peace. I am so thankful for meeting a sweet soul like you??

“ Bryce was a close friend of mine. We always sat together at lunch and we went to a few football games together. He was always such a caring and giving person, and always had a positive vibe. He could always make somebody laugh, no matter what mood they were in. He was so selfless, and towards his friends and peers. I remember at the last football game of the season we went to McDonald's before the game, and he gave me two cheeseburgers. Another time when I had to pay to get in, and he already had his ticket, he waited for me. The line was super long, but he did. And that just tells you the type of person he was. May Bryce forever rest in peace. #LLB

“ The loss of a loved one so suddenly is especially painful it knocks the wind out of you and even breathing becomes difficult. So many unanswered questions. May you find the answers and in time place your memories in a sacred place within your heart. A place to honor the life of Bryce. We know the depth of your love for him will never stop.
