

Charles George Cabibi

June 1, 2014

Charles George Cabibi, 77, of Atlanta, Georgia died Sunday, June 1, with his wife and children at his side. He was the firstborn son of the late Carlo and Marie Cabibi of Buffalo, New York. He graduated from the University of Buffalo with a B.A. degree in business management. Charles was the beloved husband of Barbara (nee Adams), the treasured father of Carla Cabibi Vinson (Doug), Maria Cabibi Lowe (Steve), Adam Cabibi (Diane) and Melanie Cabibi Blucher (David); cherished Grandfather of Carlo, Francesco and Isabella; respected brother of Allan Cabibi (Janet) and the late Raymond and Patrick Cabibi; and dear Uncle of Laura "Charm" Cabibi. Charles had many friends in Houston, New Orleans and Atlanta where he worked in the food industry in sales for Sysco Foods, U.S. Foods. He loved to play the piano, had a wonderful singing voice, could throw a mean Bocce ball, loved the Yankees, Saturdays with Salerno and made the best spaghetti sauce on the planet. His favorite place in the world next to home was Sorrento, Italy. He could make people laugh out of nowhere, wherever he showed up there was a party. No services. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society of America.

Tribute Wall

“ Charles George Cabibi

November 08, 2022 at 07:37 PM

“ We were shocked and saddened when we heard about Charlie. We sat around and smiled and laughed as we told stories of the "good old days" and the family picnics every Sunday at Chestnut Ridge. As a kid, I remember how Charlie always made us laugh. I still recall the movie we had of him showing off for the camera as we played volleyball.

*He was a great man and my parents (Norman and Dolores) wanted me to make sure to tell you all how much they loved him and how sorry they were. I can only imagine how you will all miss him... he was truly one of a kind. We are so sorry for your incredible loss and know that he probably organizing a volleyball game or sing along in heaven with the rest of the family gone before us. Love,
Elaine (Sambuchi) Volker*

Elaine Sambuchi Volker - June 09, 2014 at 12:00 AM

SA

“ Dear Cabibi Family,

Karim and I were very sorry to hear of Charlie's passing. We knew he had been sick, but it always comes as a shock, especially someone so full of life.

Like Elaine, I too recall Sundays at the park, (something our kids will never experience unfortunately). We'll especially remember Charlie's great sense of humor, but for me, I will especially remember the Accordion, a lost art! We're thinking of you all,

Sharon and Karim Ali

Sharon Ali - June 09, 2014 at 12:00 AM