“ Dennis and I worked together at Three Chefs in Arlington, VA. He was always singing a show tune and we knew he was enlisting in the Marines. Some of us Three Chefs buddies were talking and I often wondered what happened to Dennis. Please accept our condolences. Charlie Buettner

“ Dear Heather, I remember that you and I had a connection with another person we both knew, but I cannot remember who. I will sorely miss Dennis. He was always asking me how his voice sounded whenever I went to Altobello's after his first surgery with cancer. I always enjoyed playing from his and also hearing his great wit and humor at the Lawrence Awards. I feel that I will find him up in heaven singing with the heavenly choir when I get there. I am sending much love to you and your daughter.

“ Dennis was a great man whom I only knew as a singing waiter going back about 5 years ago. He was attentive, genuinely nice and had that wonderfully deep voice. He could really cover Sinatra and prowled across the Altobelli stage with 'rat pack swagger' as another singer has said of him. He was one of the main reasons my wife and I went back to Altobelli's and he shall be missed.
