“ Eli Snell, known then to me as EA, was my best friend growing up in Natick, Massachusetts. His family lived directly across the street from us. We shared everything together, from imitating Wilt Chamberlain's poor foul shot shooting against the Celtics during playoff times to his concocting of chemicals for school science projects. While we had not been touch for at least 50 years, the news of his too soon departure is terrible nonetheless. My sincere condolences to his family. Gershon M. Gulko

“ Eli and Michele, Several years ago I had asked you what verse of scripture has meant the most in your life and without hesitation you responded Ecc. 4:12 ...- a threefold cord is not quickly broken. You explained to me that marriage can't survive unless Jesus holds it together. You had found the truth of this verse through your marriage. I have never forgotten your words. It's not only what you said but how you lived. You demonstrated the truth by your lives. Watching how gentle and kind you were to one another was a great encouragement to me. Even now Jesus still holds it together. Be encouraged my sister for you are tethered to Heaven by unbreakable bonds and our brother will rise again! Love You Much!!

“ Eli was probably the friendliest most easy going gentleman I've had the pleasure of working with at Mizuno. He is greatly missed. Godspeed, Eli.
