“ To Mrs. Flossie's family, rest assured that she was very much the Angel you knew her to be. When I visited Most Blessed Sacrament Church in 2000 while considering a move to Atlanta, I sat behind Mrs. Flossie. She greeted me warmly and was very friendly to me. She brought a Sunday Missal to me often because I had not brought mine with me from Connecticut. When my family came to live with me following Hurricane Katrina in New Orleans, Mrs. Flossie spoke proudly about her Son who was helping New Orleanians restore their lives. While she never remembered my name, she always called me "My Boy!" She will always be in my prayers. May her soul rest in peace. God has another Angel reporting for duty!
