“ Grady and I were coworkers for several years. We would often get paired up on different jobs and enjoyed one another's company. As time went on we became good friends. He was the kind of guy who could make a bad day more pleasant. We made a boring day at work more interesting and had a lot of fun at times. Although after Grady retired and we never saw each other again, we continued to correspond by phone through the years. I will miss him and our conversations a lot. To quote him in our last conversation, and a phrase he often said,

See ya later, bud

“ Grady was my son's father-in-law. I spend most Thanksgivings in Atlanta and saw Grady and Linda at that time. He was such a kind, gentle man...always welcoming and a pleasure to see every year. I'll miss seeing him at Thanksgiving. My condolences to Grady's extended family.

“ Grady was a dear friend and coworker of our dad, Charlie Brown! Grady came to our parents 60th wedding anniversary reception, dad’s surprise 80th birthday and visited him several times when he was sick. Our family is so sorry for your loss!

“ Such a great man, you will be dearly missed Grady. Appreciate the years of wisdom (and patience) you provided me on home projects...and in life! Taken way, way too soon.
