“ Harold was my big brother, he was 19 years older than I. My brother taught me so much, one memory that makes me laugh, he taught me how to drive a 5 speed in Athens. Of course I was stuck on that big hill , on one of the main roads in Athens. I kept letting off the clutch too fast, so I was motioning for ppl to go around me. He told me to stop motioning and get off of the hill, I cried and I got mad, but guess what? I got it and drove back to Winder. We would laugh about that often. My brother was always there anytime that I needed him, if only to talk anytime day or night. I miss you big brother and I love you.
