“ *Jill and Billy,
You couldn't have been any better to Hilda. She liked her independence and had it as much as was possible although not always easy for you. She lived a long time without Karen and that surprised me. But I guess she always had Karen, her family and her memories with her as you will always have her with you too. We are all thinking of you now and will be there for you as much as we can. We love you both.*
