“ My sister Izzy was the embodiment of what a big sister should be. Always a guardian, a protector and a defender . There is a strange silence and big void in her absence. I expect calls or texts with questions like: Did you arrive home safely? Are the tires on your car good? Do you have enough money? Do you have a warm winter coat? Do you need anything? And.. Be careful ! And the list goes on ... but oddly I only hear the sound of cars passing by, people walking their dogs or the sound of rain or maybe the wind blowing and life goes on and now I really know how special that was. She was a rare breed who might have seemed extreme at times but when she cared for you it was with much strength and zeal . She is very much missed but I am so comforted to know that she is safe now and healed and free with so much joy unspeakable in heaven with our Lord and in the company of all our family who have gone before her and with Mike her husband all reunited forever.
