“ Debbie - We heard the unbelievable news and are so terribly sorry for your loss. We love you and Jim. He was a great guy that we were blessed to have as a neighbor, a builder, but most importantly a friend. When we heard the news, we had a flood of fun memories from over the years. From the first time we met you both at the new construction of a house and listened to the passion and pride he had for this structure, which, thanks to Jim and you, we have now called home for 20 years. This house Jim created became the home that our girls grew from children to adults...that is an amazing tribute to an amazing person. We also remember the blast we had at our dinners ...whether sitting on the floor or trying to figure out what Luke was thinking by putting a pineapple in the middle of some ice cream and calling it desert. But, there will always be one memory in particular that will always stick with us..one of the few times that UT actually beat UGA and we found a pumpkin on our front stoop with a lovely "T" carved in the front. We often wondered if he had a UGA pumpkin in the wings in case the outcome was different. Luckily, we were able to reciprocate with decorating his truck in the beautiful red and black the next time the teams played. We loved his stories about the people he worked with; they were hilarious. He always was great with the girls and we always appreciated his kind words to them and the way he would kid them about things. They truly thought the world of Jim. To us, his friendship was unconditional. In life, the love he had for you was boundless. We are so very sad he is gone, but are very thankful to have known him. Love Glenn and Leann.
