

James Henry (Jim) Sarver, Jr.

June 8, 2015

James Henry Sarver Jr. (Jim), 79, died on June 8th on what would have been the 57th wedding anniversary. He went to join his loving wife Mabelle Kathleen Sarver (Kathy), who preceded him to Heaven in 2002. Jim loved watching Braves baseball and golf, especially golf being played at the Augusta National. He loved to read and play penny poker. Jim was a salesman and he was on the inside cover of Time Magazine in the 70's for being one of the nation's top Ford salesmen. Jim was preceded in death by his wife Kathy; his parents James and Helen Sarver; his brother Douglas; and his great-grandson Caleb. Jim is survived by his children Jim Sarver, Ken (Mary) Sarver, Katherine (Dwight) Walton, Susan Lucky, and Elizabeth (Tom) Mason; his ten very loved grandchildren; two great grandchildren; and multiple nieces and nephews. The family will receive friends on Sunday, June 14, 2015 from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at Elliott Sons Funeral Home, 4255 Columbia Road, Augusta, GA 30907. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy in memory of James Henry Sarver, Jr.

“ Am so sorry to learn of Mr. Sarver's passing. I remember him and Doug from Bland where we all went to school. God bless each of you.

I am a Bland Co. Genealogist and have info on all the families past and present. If any of you are interested, am always glad to share. I still live in Bland.
