“ Although we weren't able to get many years out of knowing and having Jeff around, we did get a few of them. Jeff was a very entertaining man. He loved to talk and man his stories he'd tell would always keep you listening. He made sure every conversation was filled with entertainment. He would always talk about his brothers, his kids, and his mammaw Eunice. But honestly, the person he would always come back to and would be brought up in EVERY conversation was his brother Chuck. He loved all his family, but he looked up to Chuck so dearly. He was so proud to be his brother. Jeff and my youngest son were like 2 peas in a pod. They just clicked from the moment they met. We loved Jeff and are going to miss him dearly!

“ I remember the first Daddy Daughter dance where he danced with me and told me how much he loved me. I think back to that night in my pink dress while my Dad was in a white button down and a pink tie. I will never forget it. I love you Dad.
