“ I met Jeremy when he was about 12-13 years old. I had a duplex for rent, and a friend of mine, Mike Beltran, who knew Phillip and Tana, said his friends might be interested in renting it. So Mike took me over to meet Phillip and Tana. I spent a few minutes getting to know Phillip and Tana and explaining to them where the place was so they could check it out. Mike spent the entire time talking to Jeremy. When Mike and I left their house Mike was telling me what a good kid Jeremy was and that he was "cool".

Soon after that, Phillip and Tana moved in, and almost immediately all of us became good friends. Through the years, and a lot of good times, along with some rough times, we became more like family. As Jerm got a little older he would ask me if he and his friends could work with me on the weekends to earn some extra cash. I told him sure anytime he wanted to I would find work for him. I remember the first time Jeremy went to work with me. My crew was all amigos; they knew absolutely no English and Jeremy knew no Spanish. As me and the amigos would talk and laugh, Jerm would ask what did they say? What did you tell them? For some reason, when someone doesn't understand a foreign language they automatically think you're talking about them. So I would translate Spanish to English so Squirm would understand and vice versa. By the time we got to the job it was like the amigos and Squirm were old friends. I told them, the amigos and squirm, that all of this translation back and forth was killing me!

But that's how Jeremy is. He never met a stranger and wanted to be friends with everyone. I never thought that "cool kid" would end up being one of the best persons I have ever known in my life. One day we were talking I explained to him, that he was family to me, the little brother I never had.....Jerm said, you know what bro; I really appreciate you saying that it means a lot to me.

Jeremy is a friend that is always, always there for you. When I got into some trouble, out of all my "friends" Jeremy was the only one who took time to write me. I remember one letter he sent me he was saying how he had a caddy on 22's with 4 or 5 TV's.....but in the last paragraph of that letter Jeremy said, "You know what though bro, that life ain't real". You know sometimes in life someone can say or do the smallest thing and it has a huge impact on your life, without them even realizing it. Those few words Jerm wrote, really made me think about my life and I thought, man, when did Squirm get so smart!

Anyways, when I came home, I called my family first, and then I called Michelle. I swear within 5 minutes of hanging up the phone from talking to Michelle, my phone rang, and it was Jerm. He said, I gotta see you bro. He came over insisted on giving me some cash, and I'll never forget it --he told me I needed to get some Polo shirts, really? A few days later, I get a call from Jerm telling me he wanted to help me get a landscape company going if that's what I wanted to do.

That's the kind of friend Jeremy is to me. The little brother I never had has helped me get to where I am today, more than he will ever realize. But of course, Shelia has had a lot to do with that too, the threat of bodily harm tends to work!

Anyway, Jeremy thank you for always being there for me and seeing me through some of the darkest days of my life. You are an incredible person, a great friend, and I am proud that you are part of my family. I just wish I could have been half as good of a friend to you. I'll miss you squirm. My life will be forever better because you are a part of it. I'll be seeing you soon enough, but until then you have a lot of work to do watching over your family, all of your friends, and your beautiful daughters, Divahna and Harlow. Later bro.

“ Jeremy, thanks for all the rides you gave Whit to school almost everyday. I KNOW your sweet girls will forever miss their dad, but rest assured Jess will never let them forget you. God called you to be with him, maybe it was to much on earth and he knew that you were ready to come home. So young and so much to give but we don't get to make the choice to stay or go, God knew it was your time to enter paradise. No more heartace, pain and hurt. Your free, become an angel and guard your babies, See you in heaven.

“ Dear friend,
You will be missed dearly, I will forever hold onto to your memory!
You have touched the lives of so many, your love of life and friendship was contagious! You always were there for so many!
Always helping and giving! True Inspiration, Seems so surreal that you are gone! But at least we know you are in a far more greater place than we could ever imagine! Thanks for your friendship, I pray that Our Father will protect your daughters, Jessica, Your Mom and all others whose life you have touched in this time of loss! Give them peace and comfort them to make it through this! But we can find comfort in knowing that sorrow m

“ My precious beloved nephew, you are loved and cherished. Your soul and spirit live on here on earth as it is in heaven, your beautiful body is just a vessel that walked this earth, you now have eternal life in heaven. I know Zoe' was there waiting to hug you and comfort you, I know that you are worried about your mom, your girls and Jessica and Josh. You lifted me from the deepest grief when Zoe' moved to heaven, I promise you that I will do all I can to comfort and embrace those you left behind. Now you have wings, I know you will be watching over all of us and I will be overjoyed when you visit me in my dreams. Love lives on. I miss you, I know you are just a prayer away. Earth lost a great and wonderful man, heaven gained a beautiful soul and spirit. I love you my angel~j~ Forever your aunt MiMi thanks God for the gift of you. Give Zoe' a big hug from me. I LOVE YOU xoxo
