“ The world lost a brave and courageous fighter, for our country, his family and friends and for his life. I will remember Uncle Jack for his infectious smile. No more hospitals, no more pain and suffering. You have earned peace with the Lord. You will be missed by so many. I pray for Aunt Joan, Josh, Joey and Johnny and the rest of the Peacock family that your memories will ease the pain of his departure which was too soon.

“ Dear Joan, Joshua, Joey, Johnny and all family,
He was one of the most couragest and bravest men I have ever known. With all the tragic events that he experienced, beginning as a young man in Viet Nam, he always remained positive. No matter how many trips he made to hospitals, or Dr's appointments,he went willingly believing it would improve his health. And Joan, you were quick to get him there, and stay as long as necessary and continue with your genuine care at home.....you are an angel.
I sincerely love my brother Jack; I will miss our phone conversations more than I can express.
These past several years of patience, perserverance, disappointments and endurance have bought him a hi-speed ticket to Peace and Serenity, where he is with the people he loved as well as his "buddies", St. Jude, and St. Joseph.
I will always be proud of him, love him and pray for him. My heart is heavy.

“ I admired Jack as a former marine hero and as my colleague at Merrill Lynch. He always "had my back" just as, I'm sure, he did with his fellow marines.

I'm glad I was able to hear so many of his great stories, and I know he is already terribly missed by his family and friends.

“ Dear Aunt Joan, Joey, Josh, Johnny and family:
In your time of deep grief and sadness, I pray that the love and memory of a wonderful man that was woven into all of our lives and hearts, will sustain you.
The time I spent with Uncle Jack was much too infrequent, however, the impression he left will remain with me always. He always offered hope and a smile! He was optimistic and faith-filled, even when the road was difficult, and his day-to-day, challenged. All thanks to your love and support, he lived a beautiful life.
He served his country, his family, his community, and his God. And the world is a better place because of his time on earth.
My prayers are with you for your comfort as you grieve and in finding peace knowing he is resting with the Lord.
Much love,
Fred, Monica Maddie and Natalie Meno
