“ My dear husband, I miss you so much but you made sure I made promises to you, and I have carried those out. I only said goodbye here on earth and know that we be together again.
You are free from cancer, hurt, pain, chemo and sickness. You are at peace, that makes me at peace, but doesn't take away the emptiness that is felt in this house and in my heart. Rejoice my love, you have many things to Rejoice about now. I will see you soon and we'll continue to walk hand in hand. I love you so very much!

“ You may have been my "stepdad" but in reality you were my Dad. You have always been there for us and all your grandkids. We will always love you and forever carry you with us. You will live on through each and every one of us that you have touch in so many ways. You put up a fought all the way to the end. Go Rest High On The Mountain Daddy! We Love You!
