“ Ashley,

First your mother and now your grandmother. This must have been a horrible time for you. I'm so sorry that I wasn't there to help you through it. I do hope that things get better for you, little sister.

“ I am so sorry to hear of Joyce's Passing. Joyce was like a little sister of mine growing up. Her birthday is the same day as mine and she was 5 years younger than me. She was 4 years old when she moved next door to us and I loved her and her family.

I remember one night I was spending the night with her and she woke up scared of an electrical storm that we were having. I was scared too, but I told her not to be afraid that God would take care of us. I'm sure she is resting in the arms of our Lord. Blessings and love to all of you.

“ Dear Lorette & family,
We want you to know that we are supporting you in prayer during this time of such great loss. Our assurance is the knowledge that Joyce is enjoying pain-free peace in the arms of Jesus. Our hope is the anticipation of being reunited with her in heaven. Remember, Jesus is the head gardener and as he gathers his blossoms, this rose (Joyce) still blooms behind the wall.
Cherish her memories and be encouraged, as you wrap your arms around each other.

“ Lynette, my prayer is that God continues to give you the strenght you need during this time. I too have been down this road, so I know what you are feeling. Just remember you are not alone, keep holding onto Gods unchanging hand and he will bring you through. God will provide the continuing strength you need to endure the rest of this journey and remember he will never put more on you than you can bear. Weeping may endure for a night, but joy will come in the morning. God bless you and your family as I continue to pray for you all. Your co-worker (COC)

“ Dear Lorette,
We are sorry for your loss. We have the assurance of knowing that your mother is resting eternally in the arms of Jesus. For a child of God, to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord, like a rose continually blooming in His presence. Our prayers are with your family during this sad time.
