“ Growing up my sister Joyce was always kind and caring to me. As a family, we had long trips to the West and East coasts of Canada. She never complained about my never ending, chatter and restlessness. I looked up to my big sister in all ways, and wished that we lived closer as adults.

“ My memory of Aunt Joyce goes back in the days when Bobby, David & Lee were growing up. The House was always tidy and clean. Puzzling with three boys. In her still soft voice she would tell the boys to clean up there mess, no talking back, no pointing fingers they clean up it up without being told a second time. She never yelled or scream just that s oft, quiet, firm voice.
