“ I am just learning of Ms. Whitted's Homegoing. I cared for her for a couple of years, and she was truly a charm with her bubbly personality. Ms. Julie is a prize to know and a woman who going to do what she wants to do. Today, I was calling to see how she was doing because we have not talk in a very good while because I had loss my mom in April 2024. Prior to that I would call Julie and check on her when I can reach her. What I loved about her is her smile and her funny stories. She will come into the clinic, and you don't know what she going to have you laughing about on that day. Julie was a sharp dresser and kept you updated on fashion. She will always be in my memories. My sincere condolences to the family.

When I think of Julie, whom I knew since she was a baby I remember her kindness and beautiful smile which was very contagious. I watched her grow up and I remember when she was a kid when trick or treating came along, she always made sure every kid had candy. She loved people and was good to everybody. She saw the best in everyone. She will be greatly missed and she is singing with the angels now. Pass out your treat Ms. Jai.
