

Kathy Sacco

September 11, 1948 - March 15, 2025

Kathy Sacco, 76, of Lawrenceville, Georgia passed away peacefully on March 15, 2025, surrounded by her family. She was born on September 11, 1948, to Walter and Marie Wuchiski in Stamford Connecticut. Kathy was a devoted wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and friend. She shared 55 beautiful years of marriage with her beloved husband, Henry Sacco, who survives her.

Kathy is also survived by her loving children: Adam Sacco and his wife Marci, Amy Towe, and Scott Sacco and his wife Mary. She was a cherished grandmother, known affectionately as 'Meme', to her five grandchildren (Tyler, Hannah, Avery, Halle, and Miller) and one great-grandchild (Townes). She also leaves behind her brother Walter and his wife Barbara Wuchiski.

Family was at the heart of everything Kathy did. She found immense joy in hosting holidays and Sunday dinners, bringing her loved ones together over meals, and never missed an opportunity to connect with her many cousins and extended family in Connecticut.

Kathy embraced life fully and unapologetically, living by the words of her favorite Frank Sinatra song, I Did It My Way. But above all, she always put the needs of others before her own, selflessly giving her love and care to those around her.

Her father, Walter, had a tradition of praising her cooking with the words, "You outdid yourself, Kath." And as we reflect on her lifetime of love, generosity, and devotion, it is only fitting to say once more, "You outdid yourself, Kath."

In lieu of flowers, the family kindly requests that donations be made in Kathy's memory to the David Russo Cancer Foundation, www.davidrussofund.org , 50 Spruce Street, Stratford, CT 06614.
