Her Journey's Just Begun

By Ellen Brenneman

Don't think of her as gone away

Her journey has just begun

Life holds many facets

The Earth is only one.

Just think of her as resting

From the sorrows and the tears

In a place of warmth and comfort

Where there are no days and years.

Think how she must be wishing

That we could know today

How nothing but our sadness
Can really pass away.
And think of her as living
In the hearts of
Those she touched.
For nothing loved is ever lost
And she was loved so much.

“ Lauren will forever be my hero. She is the strongest person I've ever know. A true warrior. Her laugh was contagious and her smile lit up the room. I know that she is happy, healthy and free in Heaven. She is walking, running and singing. We will all be together again one day.

“ My favorite memory is when I was a kid I would push her and run as fast as I could down the aisles in the grocery store. I can still hear her laughing and see her smile. She is the reason I keep going and be a better person.

“ We will never forget our trip to Georgia when our kids were all little. Marty said hello to Lauren and she must have loved his voice. She got so excited, but only when he talked to her. When we left she cried. We have talked about that many times over the years. We love you all and wish we all lived closer. Big hugs to you all!!!
