“ Faithful. This is the word to describe Lessie. For so many years she sat with me... all alone in the Sunday school room. She shared the gospel, prayed with me and for me. Her legacy of faithfulness will endure. Indeed we rose into call her blessed.

I've always loved Lessie. She was a wonderful and loving friend to my mother and I remember them going off to cherokee together when they were both still able to get out and about. She was a talented musician and as Shannon said... faithful. She played piano for the church for as long as I can remember. She's at rest now and with those she loved here before.
