“ Lori, you have been my Bff/sister for many years. We rode back and forth to work, went shopping together, it is hard for me to believe I can't pick up that phone and talk to you. Two great people were born in January and both also passed away in January. When I moved to Atlanta, we had a hard time getting together, due to your health and mine but we always talked on that phone. Last year I called you up and told you my dad passed away January 26th. You were going to come to his funeral, but I was sick running 104 temp., so you had to stay away.

*I remembered the night you called me you were excited and on the way to the hospital to get that transplant. I was excited but yet concerned. I was walking my granddog and I just stop what I was doing and started praying hard for my BFF/Sister to be alright. I asked if I needed to be at the hospital and you told me no Jerry could inform me what was going on. I got to see you two more times after that. I am really really going to miss you, my sweet friend/ sister, but I am glad you are in no more pain. RIP Lori “ Please accept my heartfelt sympathy for the loss of your loved one, Lori. It breaks our hearts when death separates us from the ones we love so much. The Bible reminds us that God sees our pain and sorrow and has promised that soon, "death will be swallowed up forever."(Isaiah 25:8) He will heal our broken hearts by resurrecting our precious loved ones to life again.(John 6:40) Until then, I hope the beautiful memories of Lori and these promises from God comfort you in the days to come.
