“ *My prayers are with you all and I know God is holding you in his arms, comforting you with his peace. Max's proud Grandma, Debbie, showed me many photos of Max with his sweet family and told me lovely stories of his love and kindness. I especially remember the picture of Max standing in the grass and beautiful streams of light were pouring down all around him! May God bless you and help you now and always. With my sympathy and my prayers,
Nancy*

“ Condolences to your family. May you receive comfort from the word of God during this time of loss. Acts 24:15 says there will be a resurrection of the righteous and unrighteous. Can you imagine the joy of Martha and Mary when Jesus raised Lazarus back to life?- Read John 11:21-24, 38-44. Revelation 21:3,4 promises that one day death, mourning, and outcry will be no more. “ Dear Keri,
I am so sorry to hear about Max. He was such a sweet, sweet boy. I loved seeing him at Therapy Works when you guys would come for Monica and Kay. I know that there are no words that can ever take away the pain but please know that everyone here at the clinic is holding you up in prayer and surrounding you and your family with love.

We read and re-read the beautiful article you wrote about Max on the AJC. We want to remember Max with the fondest of memories. As a mom myself, I cannot even begin to imagine how you are feeling right now but please know I am thinking of you and will keep you in my prayers.

Much love,

Aileen

“ I am very sorry for your loss. I would like to share a scripture that I hope brings your family some comfort during this difficult time. "He will swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces."- Isaiah 25:8 You might feel that death is a problem that has no solution. But there is a solution, the resurrection that God will carry out by means of his Son.

“ Words cannot express the deep sadness in losing a loved one and especially a young life cut short. Please pray for the "peace of God that surpasses all understanding to guard your hearts and your mental powers by means of Christ Jesus". May fond memories dominate your thinking and the sharing of love during this time. Please remember to also take care of yourselves and get plenty of rest and nutrition.

Sincerely

“ I am so sorry for your loss. I can't even begin to imagine the pain that you are experiencing. However, Jehovah God is someone who always knows how you feel and wants to you bring you comfort and hope. His word the Bible promises: "Jehovah is close to the brokenhearted. He saves those who are crushed in spirit." (Psalm 34 verse 18) I hope this brings some measure of comfort to you, knowing you have someone to depend on while you endure the pain.
