“ We are deeply sad with this huge loss and our sincere condolences and support to Milind's family. Milind was a great co-worker, friend and neighbor for more than 20 years.

He was an amazing singer, very active in community and college alumni. We will never forget Milind's positive attitude and cheerful smile!

“Milind was not just a highly valued AT&T employee and co-worker; he was an individual who added a layer of richness and warmth to the work environment that made it easy for all of us to put our best effort forward and enjoy doing so. I often pulled Milind into new programs or situations that involved a high-level of uncertainty and risk because his calm demeanor and straight-thinking, practical ideas always seem to clear the fog, enabling us to create a vision followed by a plan of execution. I came to count on his insights and recommendations, even for situations outside of his area of responsibility.

I know work and life will have to continue without Milind—we have no choice—but it’s hard to believe that they can ever be as good. We will rally to pick up tasks that Milind can no longer perform, as he would’ve wanted us to do, but there is no way to fill the hole in our lives that he leaves behind.

Milind, I am still in shock and haven’t fully accepted that you are gone. It was too sudden, too soon; it feels like we were robbed. I will miss you, but I am forever grateful that our paths crossed...and my life is truly richer because I knew you.

Amita, Gaurav and Amogh and family--you were the center of Milind’s life and hurting the most from this unexpected loss. But there are many who are grieving with you, including his AT&T family. You have our deepest sympathies.

“ I've had the great pleasure of knowing Milind for the last ten years initially working for him for three years when he first became a manager. Though distant from New Jersey, it was easy to grasp the care and concern that he had for all of us. But it was in the last year that we worked together on a daily basis - talking at least once if not several times a day. Milind was my wakeup call each morning - his effervescent smile came booming in through his warm voice with his "Good morning, good morning" which started off each day on the right foot. My deepest sorrow to Milind's family. Thank you for sharing him with us. We are all the better for it.

“ Milind and I were classmates in masters program at Hyderabad Central University. It is really a shocking news and hard to believe such a vibrant personality is no more. Milind was always jovial, cheerful and helping others. He will remain within our heart with his ever smiling face. My deepest condolences to his family. May his soul rest in peace.

“ *My dearest Milind,
How come you left us early? Even without informing? Miss you my dearest roommate/classmate/dearest friend.*

Great memories in University with Sangam and ChoriChori shows in Hyderabad Matnee and Firstshow and then running to Golden Threshold to catch the bus. The GATE scholarship we earned together in masters by writing the test. Then great listening together the Chitr Path Sangeeth.

The visit of your family to Bay area. So So Nice. Bindaas, Ever cool and only one Milind Madhav Phadke. Miss you pal miss you.

Om Shanti.

“Milind and I studied together for 6 years (4 years in BITS Pilani and 2 years in Central Univ in Hyderabad). I got to know him well for 2 years in Central Univ. Once you meet him, what you remember forever is his smile --- his pure-hearted smile. He was brilliant and funny in original way; and, yet, unassuming, easy going and almost laidback. Even though our friendship spans over 3 decades, and we didn't meet often enough, Milind is a guy with whom you can connect readily and start where you left off even after many years. Awesome carroms player. Wonderful singing voice. I still vividly remember him playing carroms while crooning a Hindi melody. A man full of original ideas: one I can remember discussing with him is an idea which is a combination of facebook and tinder --- this was in 1989! Milind, you were a mensch. I will miss you immensely, so much so that even your wonderful smile can't soothe me --- at least not yet. Amita, Gaurav, Amogh – If I am feeling so bad, I can't fathom how deep your sorrow must be. My deepest condolences. May God give you the strength to endure and cherish Milind and his memory. Milind, my dear friend, you left us too soon. Maybe, we'll catch up someday, when my time comes, where we left off! Until then, rest in peace buddy.

“Milind and a few of us shared a corporate apartment, right after we all graduated, and started at our first jobs at CMC in Hyderabad, India. 3 years under the same roof - tons of wonderful memories - a lot of chess, a lot of music, a lot of beer, and the lively philosophical debates that ensued, jokes and hearty laughs and daily midnight runs for chai and cigarettes.

We go home after work, walk into the kitchen, take a look at what the cook made for us, and invariably decide to go out to eat. Millind's favorite place was a Punjabi dhaba on Nagpur highway. And Milind would usually be the one that after we got home, to remember to properly dispose off the food that our cook made, to make sure she didn't get offended the next day. Some of our fondest memories were our long trips to attend our friends' weddings, including Millind and Amita's wedding in Nagpur.

Milind loved old Hindi songs, especially soft melodies and dardh-bari lyrics. Millind's loved classical music, he got us to go enjoy so many concerts, including one at sunrise, a morning raaga by Kishori Amonkar.

Milind is the more mature and balanced fellow amongst our rambunctious group of friends :) Always a gentleman, with a pleasant simile. I just can't recall an occasion he was upset or angry. Oh! Milind, we are so lucky to have shared a few years with you. Will surely miss you, and terribly!

“ I came to know Milind when he applied for the Systems Engineering management position on my team. He was always pleasant and the consummate professional. We used to regularly share our family stories together. Even after the SE team separated from my organization, we stayed in close contact. I will cherish the time I was able to spend with him and wish that his memories be a source of inspiration to his family and all who loved him. I will dearly miss him.

“ Milind,

I will miss you and all the times that we sat together and had those enlightening conversations about work, family, kids, etc.

I will miss coming into the ofc and not being able to find you in the row that you always sat in, and know that is the row I will sit in.

I will miss your smile!!

So long my friend. This is too sudden to grasp.

My condolences to your wife, sons and the rest of your family.

RIP!!

Milind seemed to always have a smile on his face. He brightened the office by just being there. He was a good man and will be missed by many whose lives he probably never knew he touched.
