“ Pat was my father. And as old as I am, I still need him and I miss him every day. And in a portion of my own self-analysis, my reaction to his death - that is to say, to the most important event, the most poignant loss of my life. (Freud).

“ I had the pleasure of being introduced to the Blanchard family in the early to mid 70's when I worked with Phil Blanchard. His father would come to the branch at Daniel Village quite often. I met his brothers Preston and Pierce and Pat around that same time. I was just starting my banking career. Around 1999-2000 I was lucky to join First Bank and reconnect with Pat. The Blanchard brothers were kind, polite and compassionate. Pat always had good things to say about everyone. I had a great career, and it started with this family. Sending prayers for the family.
