

Paul Joseph Conlon

September 10, 1963 - February 20, 2026

Paul Joseph Conlon, 62, of Gwinnett County, Georgia passed away on February 20, 2026, in Sugar Hill after a brief illness. Paul was born on September 10, 1963, in New Jersey to Ann Conlon and Joe Conlon. He attended schools in New Jersey, Georgia, and Kansas, eventually taking classes at the University of Kansas. He met friends wherever he went and kept them for life.

If there was a trivia night within driving distance, Paul was there (and probably part of the winning team). He enjoyed board games, long chess matches, the crash of bowling pins, and puzzles of every variety. Paul was an avid reader, a devoted comic book collector, and a movie fan of both masterpieces and crowd pleasers. From casual card games to Texas Hold'em poker, he loved them all - and even ran the tournaments.

Paul was always quick to lend a helping hand - including taking care of animals. He brought curiosity, kindness, and a touch of mischief to our lives. He had a wicked sense of humor that never dimmed. In fact, if you happen to hear mysterious sounds coming from his remains, rest assured: that was prearranged. He wouldn't have it any other way.

He is survived by numerous loving friends and family members who will miss his kindness, his intellect, and his quick wit.

Paul's final wish is simple and practical: please get a colonoscopy.

A memorial celebration of Paul's life will be held at the Wild Timber Clubhouse (6235 Wild Timber Road, Sugar Hill, GA) on Friday, February 27, 2026, from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. Come prepared to share a story, enjoy something sweet, and answer at least one trivia question correctly - he'll be keeping score.

“ I am utterly shocked and devastated over this, especially for my dear friend Dee Dee, who has endured so much already. Paul was literally her dream man, eye impediment and all (inside joke). He was the balance to her crazy and would do anything to help her, including with her beloved animals. What a sweet, special man.
