“ When my Nina (her sister Jane) and I went to see her one time, she thought I was lying about who I was until she asked what our favorite song was and it was “Where I Come From” by Alan Jackson because she loves the part where he mentioned “Cornbread and Chicken”.

She then looked to my Nina for confirmation to make sure i wasn't an imposter. After that moment, we began sharing life updates and my time overseas as I just came home from my first deployment.

“ When I went to see you one time, you didn't know who I was & made me show you my driver's license to prove to you who I said I was. We laughed about that later. I miss you but know you're not sick any longer or in pain. You're with dad & mom & all your doggies.

“ I met Becky when we were working at Candler Rd Pawn Shop. She was a great friend great being an understatement. She will be forever missed but never forgotten. When I had my car accident in 2004 I lost my leg and when I was able to come back to work Becky picked me up for work and brought me home everyday for about 5 months. Not only did she pick me up for 5 months she bought us breakfast every morning. She was hard on you but at the very same time she was very much a loving and caring individual. Love you Becky I'll miss you....

“ When I was learning to drive, she taught me how to drive a manual transmission. A few burnouts, and a burnt up clutch later, I finally got the hang of it. We laughed the entire time.
