“ Bob was my oldest cousin. He and his family lived in New York State and we in Maine and I didn't get to see him often, I loved him dearly. . He was 11 years older than I, but even as a kid he treated me with love and kindness and not like a nuisance of a tag-a-long! He and I shared a rather strange and somewhat irreverent sense of humor and created a bond between us. He had an exceptional taste in women and was blessed with two of the best wives a man could ask for, Sandy and BJ. For those choices, I thank him for both of these dear ladies have enriched my life. He was equally blessed with his children. Karen and her late brother, Eric - blessings both. My late father, Bill was especially fond of Bob and was always overjoyed when he and his family would visit Maine. Bob, you are already missed, but are now with your Mom and Dad and the rest, in Heaven, pulling practical jokes on Grammy Armstrong! She has waited a long time for you and has Welcomed you with open arms. God Speed and RIP my friend. Pam Armstrong Morrison
