“ Bob was a shining example of community service and volunteerism. I met him through the Gwinnett Council for Seniors and he helped mentor me on garden railroading when I started a few years ago at Vines Botanical Garden as a fellow volunteer. He loved the trains! On behalf of the Georgia Garden Railway Society's Executive Board and its membership we send our sincere condolences to the family.

“ I first met Bob in July 2006. He is probably the most dedicated model railway enthusiast I have ever known. Involved with the planning and operation of the Vines Garden Railroad located in Loganville, Georgia. You would find him there on any day it was in operation. He could also be found organizing and running trains at special events in the Recreation Center at George Pierce Park as well as the Southeastern Railway Museum. It was a pleasure for me to be able to work and associate with him on many of those occasions.

Until we meet again in that great model railway in the sky!
