“ *Bob was a science teacher at Calipatria High School in the desert of Southern California in the late 1970s where I was a board member. Bob and I along with our Principal Gary Smith and our Boy's Varsity Basketball Coach Gary Hinkle spent several nights a week playing tennis. Bob was an incredible athlete, exceptional teacher and an inspiration to his students and fellow teachers. My wife and I were so close to Bob and his family that we all cried when they left for a better teaching job. I got to play golf with Bob a couple times and he was so gifted. He still had dreams of qualifying for the pro tour. I lost touch with him after they moved to Georgia and often tried to re-connect. What a shock to see his obituary and to learn of his sudden passing. It is so touching to read the testimonials of others to whom Bob made such an impact. I will never forget him and will always miss him. My best to Meggie and Matthew. You two were just little ones when I knew you. Would love to visit and share some stories of those days. “ *To Bob's family,
Though I only knew him a short time, Bob was one of the most open and kind people I had met in a long time. He seemed like one of those people who just makes the world a little easier to live in for everyone.
My thoughts and prayers are with you in this time of grief. I know he was looking forward to many years with his grandchild and his golf courses, and while I know he is in a better place, I know he will be sorely missed here.
Warmest Regards,
Nicole Cook (UGA Ph.D. cohort)*

“ I had one of the best counselors Mill Creek HS had to offer-- Mr. Nelson. Throughout high school he always steered me into the right direction. He helped me when my academics were too much to handle and guided me on my UGA application. I really wish I could express to him one more time how he impacted my high school experience. Mr. Nelson was always welcoming and was not at all surprised when I showed up in his office a couple times a week asking for advice. I will never forget the good he had done for me but I will always remember his last service to me. It was nearing the end of May and graduation was just around the corner and I was in his office constantly asking for my transcript early so I could send it to UGA to enroll in a science program. Transcripts were not allowed to be picked up until about two weeks after graduation but by that time the deadline for the program at UGA would have passed. Amazingly enough Mr. Nelson had my transcript printed and signed, waiting for me in the front office the day of graduation. I couldn't believe he made it happen. So thank you Mr. Nelson. My heart reaches out to his family in this time of bereavement.

“ I was shocked and saddened to hear about Bob. It has been many years since I had the privilege of working for him but the memories remain fresh in my mind. His gentle spirit and helpful nature were constants to all, co-workers and students. May you find peace and comfort in knowing that your grief is shared by so many.

“ Mr. Nelson was one of the most caring and genuine people I knew. He was a great counselor who helped me through some difficult times and helped me get on track for college. I recall visiting his office two to three times a week with questions and comments, I sometimes thought it might have been irksome but he always greeted me with a warm smile and "Eduardo, come on in". His office was covered with golf and UGA decorations, his computer was always filled with sticky notes about students and he had this one smiley face pen that he always used to sign. I'm going to miss him very much, not only as a counselor but as a friend and mentor. The world lost one of the good guys and he will be missed, we are always going to be in need of people like Mr. Nelson, people who are caring towards others, people who care about the education of all children, people who inspire others to excel. So Mr. Nelson, I bid you farewell and send my condolences to your family. The last words you said to me at graduation still ring in my ears, "I expect great things from you Eduardo". Thank you for believing in me and others like me.

“ Dear Jayne & family,
Although we have never met, I have known Bob since 2001 from North Gwinnett HS, where he was my son's counselor. He helped my son through some difficult times & inspired him to go on to college. I was honored to get to work with him again this year as a School Counselor intern (at a nearby HS). He was one of my first inspirations to go to grad school & become a school counselor. He was one of the best and will be missed by many. My condolences,
Debra

“As a friend and Ph.D. cohort member with Bob at the University of Georgia, I am deeply saddened by this sudden loss. In fact, I am very much overwhelmed at the notion that I will not get to hear Bob's laugh or hear any of his witty remarks in and outside of the classroom. He reminds me of so many wonderful leaders in this world that I cannot imagine thinking what more he could contribute if he were still with us.

I have never met a more open-minded, loving, respectful, spiritually uplifting, family and community centered, and free spirited, humorous person than Bob. He challenged me and so many others to never take life lightly or for granted and to cherish each and every moment. Such a joyous and kind person. Here is a quote from Eleanor Roosevelt that reminds me of his gentle, joyous, and social justice driven spirit.

"Where after all do universal human rights begin? In small places, close to home - so close and so small that they cannot be seen on any map of the world. Yet they are the world of the individual person: The neighborhood he lives in; the school or college he attends; the factory, farm or office where he works. Such are the places where every man, woman, and child seeks equal justice, equal opportunity, equal dignity without discrimination. Unless these rights have meaning there, they have little meaning anywhere. Without concerted citizen action to uphold them close to home, we shall look in vain for progress in the larger world."

Remarks at the United Nations, March 27, 1958

Here is a nice song by Frank Sinatra entitled, "The House I Live In," in memory of Mr. Robert Lee "Bobby" Nelson.

My heart aches, but here is how I will remember you most because you have always provided so much more than a good laugh. You gave so much hope! Thank you buddy!

The House I Live In - Frank Sinatra

(L. Allan, E. Robinson)

[Recorded January 2, 1964, Los Angeles]

Here is a link of this song, which was actually sung by Patti Labelle for Frank Sinatra's 80th birthday.

What is America to me?

A name, a map, or a flag I see?

A certain word, "democracy"?

What is America to me?

The house I live in, a plot of earth, a street

The grocer and the butcher, and the people that I meet

The children in the playground, the faces that I see

All races and religions, that's America to me

The place I work in, the worker by my side

The little town or city where my people lived and died

The "howdy" and the handshake, the air of feeling free

And the right to speak my mind out, that's America to me

The things I see about me, the big things and the small

The little corner newsstand and the house a mile tall

The wedding in the churchyard, the laughter and the tears

The dream that's been a-growin' for a hundred and fifty years

The town I live in, the street, the house, the room

The pavement of the city, or a garden all in bloom

The church, the school, the clubhouse, the millions lights I see

But especially the people

That's America to me

“ My thoughts and prayers go out to the Nelson family. I had the joy of getting to know Coach Nelson while playing golf at Mill Creek High School. Some of my fondest memories in high school are practices with Coach Nelson. He was always making us laugh. He was a great encourager, teacher, and counselor. My condolences go out to your family. I will always be grateful for everything Coach Nelson taught me not only about golf but life. He always made me strive to be a better person. He will forever be missed.
