“ I knew Rodney as about as long as his parents.I meet Rodney in 1979,we threw rocks at each other the day we meet and have been best friends ever since.Even though our life's took different paths as adults and we lost touch for a few years,we have always been friends.God recently brung Rodney back in my life and we were picking up where we left off.Even though Rodney was not blood,he was more of a brother to me than friend.God bless the Watson family,his mother and father were like parents to me.I will miss my brother/friend but will never forget him and will see him again.God bless.

“ Rodney you will be missed!!! We were just talking about the "Cherokee Days" the other day and were talking about you. Rest in peace "Studly". You have taken care of so many patients over the years with such compassion and caring that I can say that the world has lost a good one.
But may the angels rejoice that you are Home. I pray for peace and comfort for your family. God Bless.

“ I first met Rodney when I had a flat tire and he fixed it at BP...we had many great memories after that. He was so excited to show my son the fire station when he worked at the one on Bells Ferry..one of the best memories was him playing christian music on his keyboard for me....he will truly be missed. Heaven just gained an awesome angel!

“ I hadn't seen Rodney in so long, but I remember having so much fun all us kids playing together when we were little. I remember one time he told my dad that he was daddy's uncle so daddy called him Uncle Rodney from then on, was so cute. Your family will surely be in my thoughts and prayers during this difficult time, and I know that God will wrap his loving arms around you and comfort you through it all!

I love you all very much!
