LeeAnne and Jep, and family, I am so sorry fit the loss of your daddy and grandpa. Roger was such a kind, thoughtful and sweet man. He was so genuine and ever curious, creative and fun. He loved his family, church, community and friends truly. Roger and Joyce left an unforgettable mark on my life with the kindness and care they showed me. They taught me how to garden. They always welcomed me in their home over the many years when I lived across the street and would run over there, knock on that little kitchen window, and spend some time together with them. Those are some of the sweetest memories I have in my life and I cherish them in my heart as treasures. Roger was so talented. He had the most beautiful singing voice. He taught me how to mat and frame pictures, and I have the picture we framed together still in my home today. I cannot look at it without thinking about Roger and Joyce. I loved them both very, very much and thank you, each of their family members, for holding the light of their love in your lives.
