“ Shar was special person and you couldn't help but love her. She was quiet, giving, and talented. She shared her home with us on several occasions and even gave up her bedroom. Shar had a good sense of humor and would tease me about coming out of the closet when ever I worked I on my computer. Her desk was in the closet. We shared a great deal when we where with her. We watched a mother bear with her two cubs in the backyard, massages, Shiloh and Oreo, healthy eating, and visiting cats. She will be missed.
