“ Shirley was my mother-in-law, I was just 18 when she first welcomed me into her home. I always liked making her laugh, because she would light up the room. And she always liked making sure I wasn't hungry or cold. Shirley had the bluest, truest eyes I've ever seen, and I will never forget the love that sparkled in them every time I saw her. There's nothing Shirley wouldn't do for her family; I am so blessed to be part of it. She treated me just like one of her own. I will miss her dearly, but her spirit lives on in the lives of everyone she touched. Until we meet again, love, Bryan.

“ I am truly sorry for your loss. May the memories never fail you all by remembering how she was and how each of you loved her deeply. But also know that God has a plan to bring her back and all of you can read that promise from Gods Own Son, Jesus Christ that is found in John 5:28,29 to where we find him here giving us all that Guarrantee that he will resurrect all of those in the memorial tombs and will bring them all back to experience an endless life right here on this earth, as Gods word the Bible promises us at Psalm 37:29 which reads:The righteous will possess the earth and they will live forever on it. So may these words bring some comfort and relief in the coming days, by just knowing that her death, isnt the end, she will live again and in the future all of you will be able to enjoy life as it was supppse to be.

“ Patten family my deepest sorrow and condolences for your loss. I was lucky that the first time I met Shirley I believed she really liked me, witch was a huge plus for me Mom's approval means a lot! I also believe that Shirley sent Pam over to pick up Deb at the Nusbaum house, which eventually led to me being able to marry one of her 3 wonderful daughters. I liked Shirley and as years went by I loved my mother in-law as my mom, and I know she loved me for taking care of her daughter, for richer and poorer and in sickness and health and etc! She had much to be proud of her family, grandkids, and great grandkids! Having experienced the loss of parent I fully realize how hard is, but as with my dad I know the pain and suffering is no longer and they our both at peace and together at a far better place.

*Shirley is with God
God Bless all of you*

*Love You All
