“ I do not know anything about these other than they are of Marc, Denver, and Mama.

Jenna Jones - November 04, 2021 at 05:38 PM

Jenna, your mother spoke to me often about you and how much love she had for you and your sisters. The last time we talked was in July, 4 months before she passed about you and her dogs. Sue is 20 years old in those photos. Such a beautiful person with a heart of gold. She loved to cuss but it was all in fun. I miss her every day and will until I pass. Best wishes and Merry Christmas to you Jenna and your family.

“ I came in from work one day and you asked me how your hair looked, I can't remember who colored it. I ran and got my “cocoa the clown” doll for you to hold up and when you asked me what I was doing I said- “ taking a picture of you with your twin” and you laughed so hard-then cussed at me lol I miss those days!!

“ 10-26-2019 your granddaughter was born. I know you were the one who breathed life into her when they were working on her. When she grabbed the cords and started pulling them out and fighting back with the nurses we knew what we had to do- we named her after you. Kami Sue

She thought very highly of you Denver and spoke of you often-some very impressive stories:) I'm not sure why I chose "Standy By Me" during her service but it just made me think of her- it validates the decision knowing it made you think of her as well. All the best to you-her youngest daughter Jenna Jones

“ Time passes but the hurt remains. Sue had a heart of gold and her loving smile will always be remembered. The world was a better place when she was here. I miss her everyday and find comfort knowing that she is in heaven. Rest in peace Sue you will never be forgotten.

“ I still think about you everyday and she cries on occasion when she hugs her "Nanny Sue Pillow" . We can't even bring ourselves to spread your ashes, you would be so mad that we still have them. I struggle keeping your plant alive but refuse to let it go. We hope you know how much we love you and miss you-I miss everything about you everyday. People say it gets easier with time but I do not see this void in my heart ever being filled with anything ever again mama. This new normal is defeating all of us. It's really hard without you here especially during the holidays. I cry when I hear "Stand by Me" or watch our shows. Please wait for me at the gate mama-when my day comes i want your face to be the first one i see!
