“ Tanya I still can't believe that my friend isn't a phone call away anymore. So much to say, but you know I always had a lot to say about everything. We laughed a lot over that. Thank you for hanging in there, not giving up on the friendship. I appreciated you more than you'll ever know. But, I know this past year in particular was taking its toll on you physically and mentally. When I saw you a couple of weeks ago I saw how much pain you were in, you told me how scared you were, I'm sorry I had to leave, we were both crying, saying goodbye. So, even though I'm feeling bad, I know that you are finally free of the pain, the uncertainty of what's next. That, I'm grateful for. I love ya girl, and I'll see you later! My condolences to Tanya's family. She loved you all very much.

“ Tanya, my tall friend. You will be missed by many. I feel there was so much unfinished business in your life and I think the medical system failed you. So many unanswered questions left me and others feeling very helpless. I'm sure I will look up one day and think you are walking into my office , wearing your rhinestone baseball cap!! I love you girl and I'll miss you.
