“ Dad-

Its amazing to see the outpouring of love and respect from your peers. We always knew you were bigger than life. And it is heartwarming to hear strangers say they loved you and respected you so. Its neat to hear that they feel they knew us and Molly. She misses you greatly. I still cant believe your gone and wait daily for your big booming voice to call me Sweetheart. I love you Daddy and miss you more than I can ever say.

-Your first.

“ My deepest condolences and sympathy to Tom's family. Tom and I first worked together at Cox when he was still a young bachelor and I was too young to drive a rental car! But life passes quickly and we both moved on to marriage, being parents, him being a grandfather and then the loss of our mother's. I last spoke to Tom several weeks ago and he was in great spirits and had just started chemo. Needless to say, I was rather shocked when I heard that he had transitioned from this life to his next so quickly. But I was also relieved that he did not suffer for an extended period of time. Tom, ICOMS will suffer a tremendous void without your knowledge and all of us who knew you will miss your thunderous voice and commanding presence. And you were right, cooking on a gas stove is superior to cooking with electric. Until we meet again, go in peace TC. Holly & Steve Madeley

“ I write this note with a heavy heart, I lost a great mentor, friend and boss this week. I had the great fortune to work with Tom for more years than I can count. Tom was my biggest champion at work and often times his gruff saved me from more hours than I could manage. I think back to all the years on the road with our fearless "Leader"....finding the perfect pool hall was his favorite task. And his amazing talent for cooking and fine dining...I always managed to make it to his dinner invites. The many hours of questions and answers.... taking his time to teach me more and more. He was one of kind and someone I am truly grateful to have known and worked with for so many years. May his family know just how much he was loved and respected at work. He was so proud of his children and granddaughter; we heard a lot about you. I know this time in your life is very difficult and I hope knowing just how much we loved him gives you some comfort. He will certainly be missed and always hold a special place in our industry for those who knew him. Love you TC! Scotlan (aka 'kiddo')

“ I was so sorry to hear of Tom's passing and know that he is at peace. Tom and I worked together off-and-on over the past 10 years and he was a true "guru". When Tom gave you guidance on a work issue, you could take it to the bank. He was a smart, fun and funny guy. One memory of Tom sticks out - the youngster would kid Tom about his "man-purse" and he would just look at them as if to say he could squash them if he wanted to but he was older and wiser than those knuckleheads! He will be missed! Margaret Dennis

“ To Tom's family I am deeply sorry for your loss. Many of us affectionately referred to Tom as TC. TC was one of my original mentors in our industry. At first I was intimidated by his gruff exterior but soon grew to love him as I experienced his sense of humor, sense of adventure, love of good food and loyalty. I've experienced many cities for the first time with TC as my tour guide. He was one of a few that taught me to eat sushi while in Phoenix. He prepared 'holiday meals' for us in Boston and Hampton Roads. He shared White Russians & Keoke coffee at many Ruth's Chris Steakhouses across the country. I have so many, many wonderful memories with TC filling them... He made an impact on my life. I will miss him.

“ my condolences and deepest sympathy to the family. I have had the privilege of working with Tom over the past 13 years and he was always upbeat and positive. It saddens me that he is gone, but comforts me to know that he is in a better place now.

“ I worked with Tom on and off over the last 10 years through various telecommunication clients. He was such a charismatic man and always so willing to share his extensive knowledge. One of the most important things he taught me was how to properly cook a steak! I will never forget the time we spent together in Louisville, Ky on a project, where we had to share transportation. Every Sunday we made a trip to a store of my choice and breakfast. :-)

I will miss his unique voice and wonderful personality.

My thoughts and prayers are with his family and friends.

“ I extend heartfelt sympathy to Tom's children and family as they endure his loss. He was a wonderful man and great boss at ISD in Coral Springs, FL. He was a fun traveling companion and fellow "road warrior". He enjoyed 2-3 hour dinners and taught us all how to appreciate a fine dining experience. He would try to get in a round of golf wherever we were, weather permitting. He especially enjoyed playing in the Bahamas and Maui. Be at peace, my friend.

“ Hey "Chief"-
You are already missed by many people who respect and admire you. I'll personally miss my friend, big brother and the best manager that I have worked with in my career. You touched so many with your wit and wisdom, your respect for others and a sincere smile. I pray for your children and your dad, who you so loved. God bless you TC.
