“ Travis: I know that we haven't spoken in a very long time because we just ended up falling into different groups of friends over the years. But I remember how close of friends we were throughout elementary school and cub scouts. Our parents have always been close and they would update me about what you and Wesley were up to over the years. I was very sad to hear that you were taken away at such a young age. We're the same age and I know I still feel so young. It truly is a tragedy. To Wesley, Randy, and Kelsey: my heart is with you all and I am praying for you during this awful time. I know my parents are flying out to be with y'all and I'm glad for that. So sorry for your loss. If you find any comfort, I hope it is in knowing that now Travis is watching over you all until you see him again and that he impacted so many others' lives.
