“ He was one of the smartest people I know. And he wasn't afraid to show it. Lol. He taught me a lot, both relevant and irrelevant, yet interesting facts, but he also taught me a lot about confidence and made me feel like I was worth more than I had thought. He was always happy and upbeat and I found it very difficult To be upset with him around. There are so many nice things to say about him. He was my best friend for a while until he left for college. And he will always be one of the most honest people I've known. I still can't believe this happened. I don't want to. But I will always remember him as one of the few people that actually made my life better by being a part of it.

“ Pa, my thoughts are with you at this time. It is hard to understand the reason a son or daughter is taken at a young age. I hope that good times remembered get you through this time and continue to do so. Please know that your Ithaca friends are thinking of you.

“ Our deepest condolences on the loss of your son. Victor was really close friends with my son Jared while in high school and I had the privilege of getting to know him quite well. He was the most polite young man, always the first to ask if I needed help getting groceries in from the car or would sit and chat for awhile about what was going on or his plans for the future. His laughter could light up a room along with his vivacious personality. My heart truly broke upon hearing of his passing. Our thoughts and prayers are with you today and always. Kristy
