“ I never got to meet Wade, but I know his brother and i've heard much about Wade. Stories about his kindness, caring, and compassion for others. Wade is in the Lords arms now. He left his mark on the world, and he is so loved and missed by many. Fly high Wade.

“ Wade was the best big brother I could have asked for. On his birthday I think I might've been 7 but we had gotten 2ds's from are grandparents recently and he got a couple games and a case and I remember I was so jealous and he gave me half his games and his case and there were so many moments like that he was s kind generous and I just cant explain it I cant sum it up but he was the best

“Wade was truly a fun guy, I have many fond memories of him in middle school, it sadness me to say that we did fall off in high school, so I doubt you'll recognize my name. My most favorite memory I have was when we went to the Zoo fieldtrip in Atlanta together, I slightly remember our group chanting something as we "marched" but I do not recall exactly what it was. Wade was easily the most energetic one to be there, me and him were both mad that the giraffes weren't there when we went because of the enclosure's cleaning/maintenance. I bought a sloth stuffed animal at the gift shop and gave it to him, and if I'm being more honest I lost a bet, it was all light-hearted I promise. We saw a photo booth at the zoo, and Wade, another friend, and I went inside to take pictures, I still have mine to this day and thought I could share it, and in my coat pocket you can see the sloth. In all, I truly will miss him, and he wasn't the type you could forget.
