“ Bill and I started at Morningside in kindergarten.

I was pals with Bill up through Grady: he was part of the spelunking group. Together, we built rope ladders, made counterweights for GI helmet liners to support carbide lamps, built an elaborate protective box for a camera to haul underground, and explored caves. Wonderful days!

Going off to college, we still kept up but inevitably saw much less of each other. When my parents moved up to Rabun Gap in the late 1970's, Bill would come up for an occasional visit. I probably havent seen him since the 1980's (?).

*I regret losing touch with Bill but no longer had a viable address.
